

Innovation Project at 2020 SWOPC

The South Western Ontario Pork Conference (SWOPC) committee is inaugurating the development of a display at the SWOPC (February 19, 2020) in which producers can showcase time-saving and money-saving innovations they have developed in their barns. The top innovations showcased, as judged by the attendees, will receive a gift package. To enter, please take 1-3 pictures of your innovation and include a short (100-200 word) description of what it is, how to make it and how to use it. Entries can be emailed to SWOPConf@gmail.com by January 17, 2020. Multiple entries can be submitted but a maximum of one gift package will be given to an individual. All submissions may be presented, at the discretion of the committee, at the SWOPC. If you have any questions, you can send your questions to the above email address. Criteria for judging will be potential for time and cost savings, ease of implementation and practicality. Winners will be announced by the SWOPC committee at the Conference.
